

Palm Hills Developments (EGX:PHDC)

Bibliography, input register and research record — fundamental refresh, 19 August 2026

This document accompanies the valuation study of the same date. It exists so that every number in that study can be traced to a document, a date and a layer of research, and so that a reader can see which judgements are load-bearing and what would overturn each of them.

1 Primary documents

Document	Issuer and date	What it supplies
Interim consolidated financial statements as of 30 June 2026	Palm Hills Developments Company S.A.E; limited review report by Forvis Mazars Mostafa Shawki (Khaled Said El Rabat, Financial Regulatory Authority registration 258); board authorisation and review report both dated 17 August 2026	The whole of the historical base: the income statement for the half and its comparative, the balance sheet at 30 June 2026 and 31 December 2025, the cash-flow statement, the statement of changes in equity, and notes 34, 41-72 and 76
Audited consolidated financial statements for the year ended 31 December 2024, with 2023 comparatives	Palm Hills Developments Company S.A.E; retrieved from the company investor-relations asset library	Two audited fiscal years from the filing itself: revenue, cost of revenues, gross profit, administrative cost, finance costs, profit before and after tax, depreciation, capital expenditure, operating cash flow and the movement in the Residents' Association balance
1Q2026 earnings release	Palm Hills Developments, 20 May 2026	New sales, backlog, the company's own net-debt figure, construction spending, units due for handover, land bank, and the company's own revenue, EBITDA and profit history for 2022 to 2025
9M2025 earnings release	Palm Hills Developments, 13 November 2025	Nine-month revenue, gross profit, EBITDA, new sales, construction spending, backlog and net debt — which, with the full-year totals, pins the fourth quarter of 2025
1H2025 earnings release	Palm Hills Developments, 13 August 2025	The comparable half-year operating anchors: construction spending, cash collection, backlog
Treasury bond and bill auction results	Central Bank of Egypt; bond auction 17 August 2026, bill auctions 13 and 16 August 2026	The observed risk-free rate and the shape of the local curve
Country default spreads and risk premiums, ctrypremJuly26	A. Damodaran, Stern School of Business; credit-default-swap spreads as at 30 June 2026	The Egypt row: rating, adjusted default spread, country risk premium, total equity risk premium on both bases, corporate tax rate
Daily price series for the shares and for the exchange index	The house price library for Palm Hills and for the thirty-share Egyptian Exchange index, both as of 22 July 2026	The beta regression

Table 1. Every document that supplies a number to the study. Nothing describing what Palm Hills reported comes from anywhere else.

Documents sought and NOT obtained. Two, and both matter. The results release for the first half of 2026 is not published on the company's investor-relations site, on the content interface behind it, or on the wire service that carried earlier Palm Hills releases; all three were checked on 19 August 2026 and the newest financial result on any of them is the first-quarter release of 20 May. The 2025 annual audited statements are not published either, and neither is a 2025 results release. The consequence of the first is that the company's own backlog figure, its own net-debt definition, first-half contracted sales and first-half construction spending are carried as unverified press reporting and no model driver reads them. The consequence of the second is that 2025 gross profit, cost of revenues and finance costs are shown blank in the study's three-year history rather than estimated.

2 Input register — every input, four fields

Every input carries a value, a source, a date and the layer of research it belongs to. The model refuses to emit a number if any of the 296 entries is missing any of the four.

ra_target_ratio	1	30-Jun-2026	Steady-state Residents' Association balance per Egyptian pound of annual revenue. Not asserted: solved from the company's own disclosed movements. Per pound of revenue growth the balance rose 0.98x in FY2023 (EGP 3777mn on EGP 3862mn), 1.04x in FY2024 (EGP 10048mn on EGP 9705mn) and 1.32x in H1-2026 on a like-for-like basis (EGP 5215mn on EGP 3949mn). The study carries the bottom of that measured incremental range, which lets the balance keep building toward 1.0x annual revenue and then hold there — a bounded float rather than an unbounded one

Table 6. The prior study layer in full.

3 Judgements, and what would overturn each

Judgement	What the study does	What would overturn it
The Residents' Association float is permanent operating funding	Adopted as the base framing. The balance has risen in every disclosed period, no association has been constituted, and the invested proceeds earn for the company. The other framing is computed in full and published beside it, never averaged into it.	Any association taking legal personality and its assets with it under Building Law 119. That single event moves the study from EGP 15.82 to EGP 5.79 a share.
The cost of capital normalises with the disinflation path	The discount rate glides from 25.89% today to 14.79% by the end of the explicit horizon, on a terminal risk-free rate built from the central bank's own 5 per cent target for the fourth quarter of 2028. The spot-anchored constant rate is carried as the other end of every range.	An inflation path that stops falling. July's urban print of 14.9% was the first acceleration in four months. Holding the spot rate throughout takes the cash-flow lens from EGP 34.56 to EGP 11.67.
The price-to-build-cost ratio holds at its measured level	Held at the measured 3.119x and escalated only by the difference between the selling-price path and the build-cost path. Not extrapolated downward from the year-on-year fall.	A first-half 2027 ratio below 2.81x. The two most recent quarters argue against further compression — the margin recovered from 17.5% to 21.1% — but they are two quarters.
Real construction volume grows and then decelerates	Work carried out annualises +32.9% above 2025; the path carries 12% real growth in 2027 falling to 3% by 2031.	A land bank or a launch programme that will not carry the volume. The exposure is real but one-sided: at no real growth at all the cash-flow lens falls from EGP 34.56 to EGP 25.05, and at half again the base path it rises to EGP 40.19. It runs that way because 59% of the capital funding the work is customer money — net of it the return on capital is 27.6%, against 11.3% on the gross base.

The construction cost stack splits 25/20/25/30 across steel, cement, finishing and labour	Estimated. No filing discloses a cost-by-nature split of construction. Each class still carries its own escalator; only the weights are judgement.	A cost-by-nature disclosure. Two hundred basis points of error in the blended escalator is worth EGP 13.62 a share.
Land cost and the partners' share of revenue cannot be separated	Demonstrated rather than asserted: the disclosed data give one equation in two unknowns, and the study publishes the bound it can put on the margin move instead of inventing a split.	Any disclosure splitting the cost of real estate development. Until then the block moves with revenue at its measured 37.08% rather than with cost inflation.
Net debt is EGP 5,660 mn	The company's own definition — interest-bearing obligations from note 34 less cash and treasury bills. The broader definition carrying notes payable and land liabilities gives EGP 14,532 mn, and the restricted definition used in framing B gives EGP 24,983 mn. All three are published.	Nothing factual — this is a definitional choice, which is why all three are shown rather than one being presented as the answer.

Table 7. The seven judgements this study rests on, each with its falsifier stated in advance.

4 Negative results

A search that returns nothing is evidence, and it is only evidence if it is dated and recorded. Five were logged in this refresh.

Layer and topic	What was searched	Date
Global — trade / sanctions / supply chains	Egypt construction materials import restrictions 2026; sanctions exposure Egyptian real estate developers; cement and steel export bans — nothing found bearing on the subject. CARRIED FORWARD: no driver in this study depends on it	2026-08-19
Industry — new entrants (named-competitor level)	New entrants to Egyptian residential development 2026; foreign developers entering Egypt; Ras El Hekma consortium new masterplan developers. The named set is unchanged from the prior edition apart from Madaar Ras El Hekma appearing in the top ten. CARRIED FORWARD	2026-08-19
Industry — technology substitution	Modular and prefabricated construction disruption of Egyptian developer margins; proptech disintermediation of Egyptian brokerage. Nothing found that changes a driver. CARRIED FORWARD	2026-08-19
Company — regular disclosures	Land cost of contracted units and the joint-arrangement partners' share of revenue, searched for as a separable disclosure across every obtained document: note 43 (which states plainly that work in progress is struck AFTER excluding the cost of the contracted lands), note 65 (which stops at one line, cost of real estate development), note 58 (which gives the partners' balance by project but not the charge to the income statement), the FY2024 audited notes and every earnings release 2023-2026. NOT DISCLOSED ANYWHERE. Solving across period pairs leaves one equation in two unknowns because the cumulative charge to the income statement is given at only two dates	2026-08-19
Company — ownership / stake changes (named-transaction rule)	Palm Hills Developments shareholding changes 2026; Mansour Group stake sale; new strategic investor. Nothing found. The only capital action in the period is the treasury buyback disclosed in note 62, which is recorded above	2026-08-19

Table 8. Dated negative searches. The top-down treatment of the land-and-partners block is justified by the fourth of these and by nothing else.

Two further negatives are recorded as failed attempts to reach a primary document rather than as failed searches: the first-half 2026 results release and the 2025 annual statements, both described in section 1.

5 Aggregator and source discrepancies

Item	The two figures	How the study resolves it
2025 attributable profit	The company's own history chart in the first-quarter release shows EGP 4,268 mn; the audited statement of changes in equity inside the 30 June filing shows EGP 4,217 mn	The statement governs. The chart figure is recorded here and used nowhere.
2025 revenue and	Available only from the company's own history	Used, because they are company-issued and no

EBITDA	charts, at EGP 36,196 mn and EGP 8,552 mn	statement is available, and flagged as chart figures wherever they appear.
Backlog	Note 72 gives EGP 149.1bn of contractual value for undelivered-unit contracts concluded since the start of 2023; the company's own wider definition stood at EGP 263bn at the first quarter and press reporting attributes EGP 284bn to the first half	The study anchors on note 72 because it is the only one that appears in a reviewed statement, and states the other two beside it.
North Coast and Alexandria first-quarter sales	The company's own release states EGP 5.4bn in its prose and EGP 5.9bn in the chart on the same page	Neither is used as a driver. Recorded because a reader comparing the two would otherwise assume a transcription error here.
Emaar Misr first-quarter 2026 figures	One aggregator reports net income of EGP 7.77bn on revenue of EGP 6.76bn	Not used. Net income above revenue is not possible for an operating quarter; the peer set carries only the price-to-earnings and enterprise-value multiples, not the underlying aggregator financials.
Peer multiples generally	Sourced from market-data aggregators, quotes dated 11 August 2026 for the Egyptian names and June to August 2026 for the Gulf names	Used to price OTHER companies only. No aggregator figure enters any Palm Hills historical, any driver or any statement line.

Table 9. Where two sources disagree, both are stated and the study says which it follows.

6 Assertions the model runs before it will emit a number

The model raises rather than warning. If any of the following fails, no numbers file is written and no document can be built. 57 assertions ran clean on this build.

#	Assertion
1	H1-2026 income statement foots: revenue less cost of revenues less cash discount equals gross operating profit
2	H1-2025 comparative income statement foots to the reported gross operating profit
3	FY2024 audited income statement foots to the reported gross profit
4	Note 64 revenue by activity foots exactly to the face of the income statement
5	Note 65 cost of sales by activity foots exactly to the face of the income statement
6	Note 66 foots exactly to general administrative, selling and marketing expenses
7	Note 67 foots exactly to finance costs and interests
8	Note 43 foots: total works executed less the cumulative charge to the income statement equals work in progress
9	Note 43 comparative column foots on the same identity
10	Work carried out in H1-2026 reconciles the two cumulative works-executed balances
11	Work in progress splits exactly into land acquisition cost and cost of construction and facilities
12	Equity splits exactly into controlling and non-controlling interests
13	The 30-Jun-2026 balance sheet balances: total liabilities plus equity equals total assets
14	The 31-Dec-2025 comparative balance sheet balances on the same identity
15	Note 62 foots: issued shares less treasury shares equals outstanding shares
16	Note 34's interest-bearing obligations rebuild exactly from the four balance-sheet debt lines
17	Notes payable rebuild from their short and long-term halves
18	The note 72 maturity ladder foots to the nominal value of the off-balance-sheet notes receivable
19	The note 72 present-value ladder foots to the disclosed present value
20	Attributable profit plus the non-controlling share equals profit after tax
21	Reported earnings per share reproduce from attributable profit and the weighted average share count
22	Both cost blocks inside the cost of real estate development are economically possible (each strictly positive)
23	The two cost blocks foot exactly to the disclosed cost of real estate development
24	The real-estate gross margin is an output of the two cost rates, not an input
25	The recovered EBITDA definition reproduces the company's own published FY2023 figure to within 1.2%
26	The recovered EBITDA definition reproduces the company's own published FY2024 figure to within 1.2%
27	The recovered EBITDA definition reproduces the company's own published H1-2025 figure to within 1.2%

28	The recovered EBITDA definition reproduces the company's own published H1-2026 figure to within 1.2%
29	The marginal cost of debt sits above the local sovereign yield, as the cost-of-capital rule requires
30	The risk-free rate is normalised downward by the sovereign default spread on both bases
31	The two equity risk premium bases imply the same mature-market premium to within two decimal points
32	The capital-structure weights sum to one
33	The framing that treats the float as enterprise funding values the firm above the framing that does not
34	Every discount factor is positive
35	Terminal growth sits below the terminal cost of capital under both cost-of-capital framings
36	The terminal reinvestment rate implied by the model's own return on capital is inside its bounds
37	Market capitalisation is the published spot times the ex-treasury share count
38	The beta in the register is the value the sanctioned resolver returns, not a transcription
39	The regressor is the published exchange index read from raw_indices, not a constituent composite
40	No interim-index disclosure applies to the Egyptian Exchange
41	The own-stock regression clears the usability gate, so tier 1 stands and no fallback is needed
42	beta provenance asserted on the resolver record: raw_indices/EG/EGX30.csv, as of 2026-07-22
43	The EBITDA definition recovered from the statements (gross profit less administrative and selling cost less expected credit losses) reproduces the only published figure whose components the statements disclose — H1-2025 — to within half a percentage point
44	The model's first forecast period reproduces the last reported half-year at the income-statement level to within 5%%, once the disclosed capitalised interest is added back and the modelled sequential growth is applied
45	Both bridging items are cash outflows in the reported half-year, so the like-for-like figure is the higher one
46	Unlevered cash flow is positive both in the reported half-year and in the first forecast period under the base framing
47	The terminal value is under four-fifths of enterprise value in the base framing
48	Measured on all the capital standing in the business, the return sits below the spot cost of capital — the study publishes that figure rather than only the flattering one
49	Measured net of the customer money funding the work, the return sits above the normalised cost of capital — the other half of the same fact, published beside it
50	The full model, which carries the terminal value the one-year break-even arithmetic cannot, values more volume higher under BOTH framings — the direction the prose states
51	Over half the capital in the business is customer money, which is why the two return measures differ so widely
52	Reading the security lever back through the page's own formula recovers the conditional event size the model measured, so the lever is not merely plausible but arithmetically right
53	The launch lever recovers its measured conditional gain on the same round trip
54	The segment revenue table foots exactly to the face of the income statement
55	The segment cost table foots exactly to the face of the income statement, including the depreciation line note 65 carries separately from the five activities
56	The comparative segment cost table foots on the same identity
57	Every one of the 296 register entries is four-field complete (value, source, date, layer)
